

2022 VOTER PRIORITIES INDEX

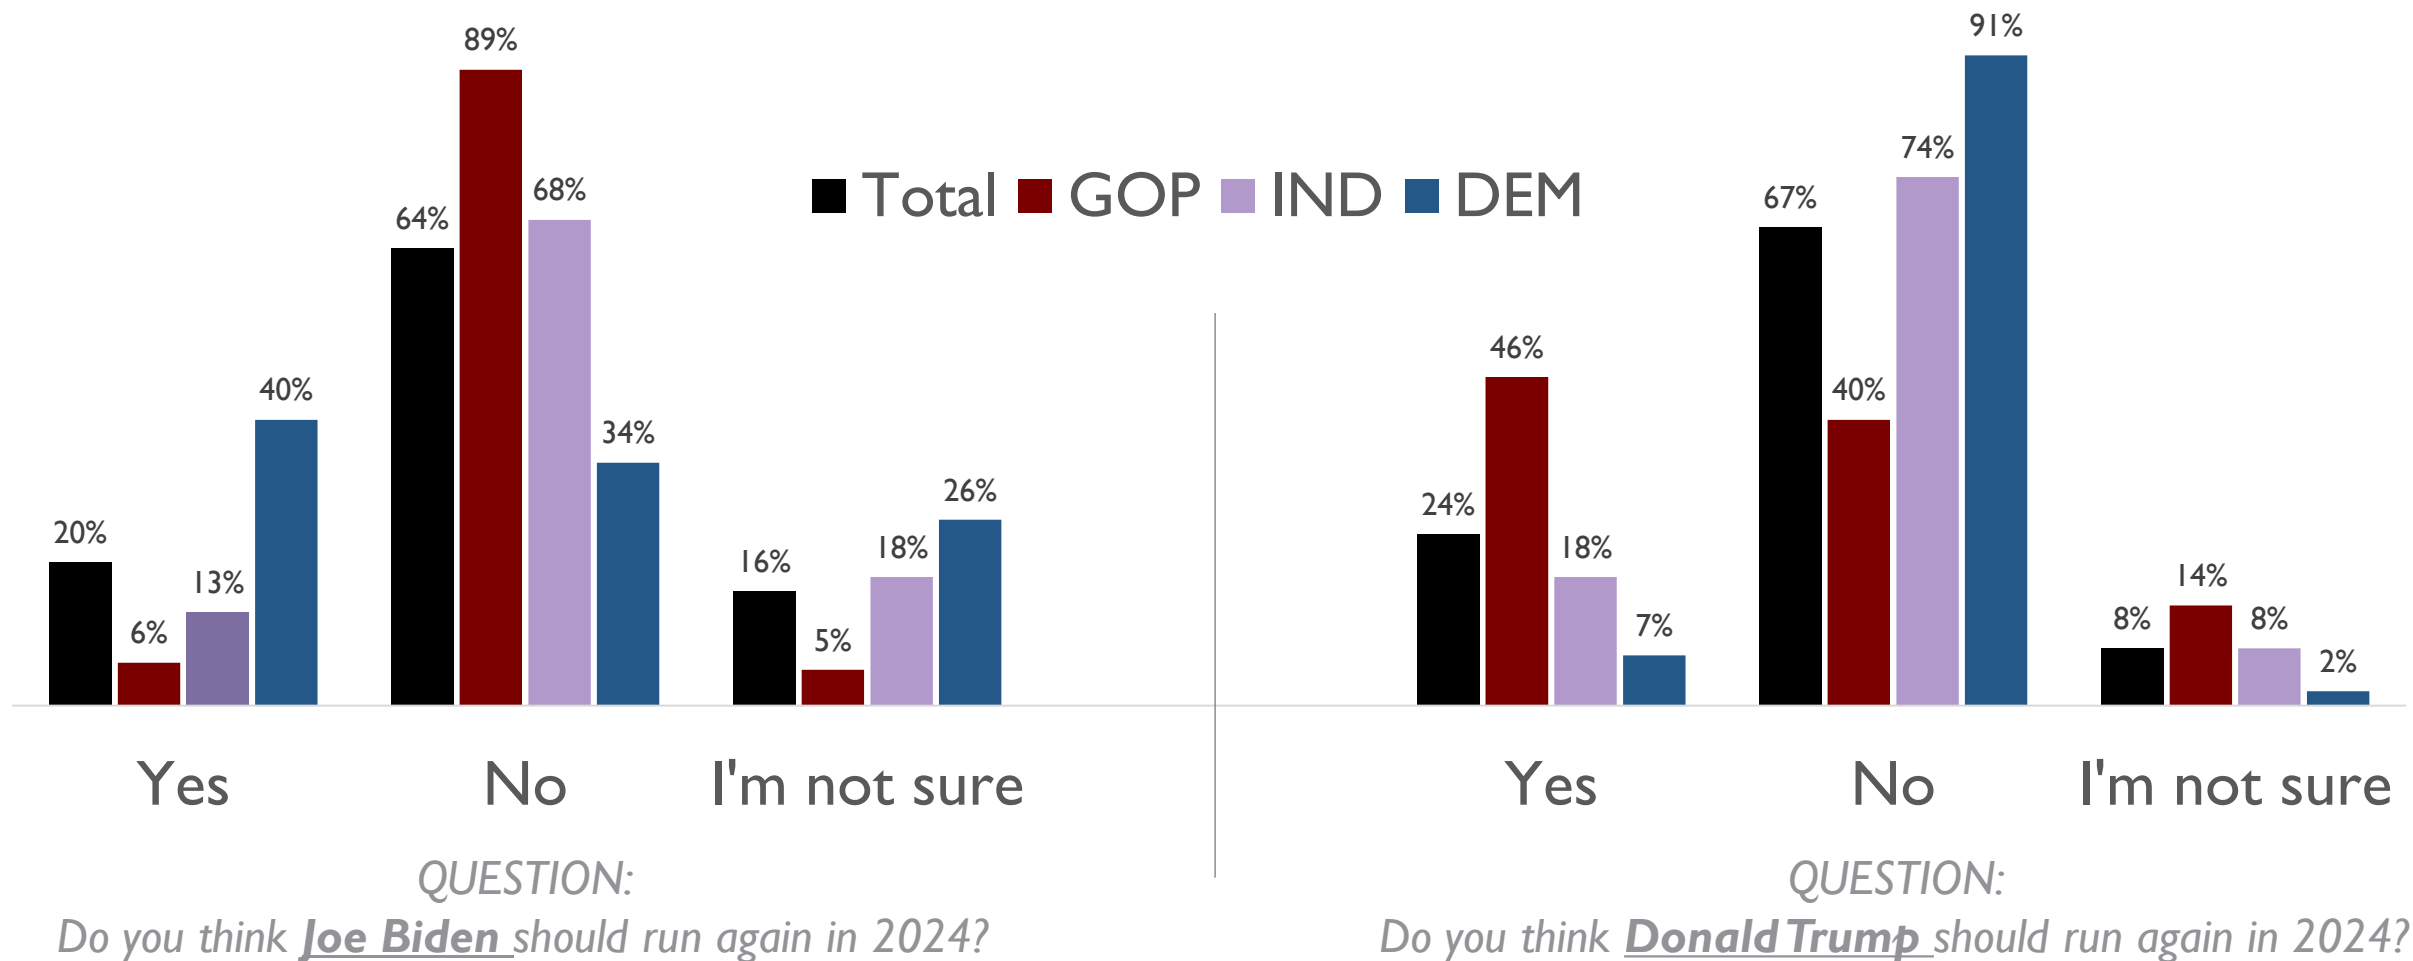

Nationwide Online Survey

N = 1500 Self-identified Midterm Voters | M.o.E. +/-2.5% | November 10-15, 2022

2024

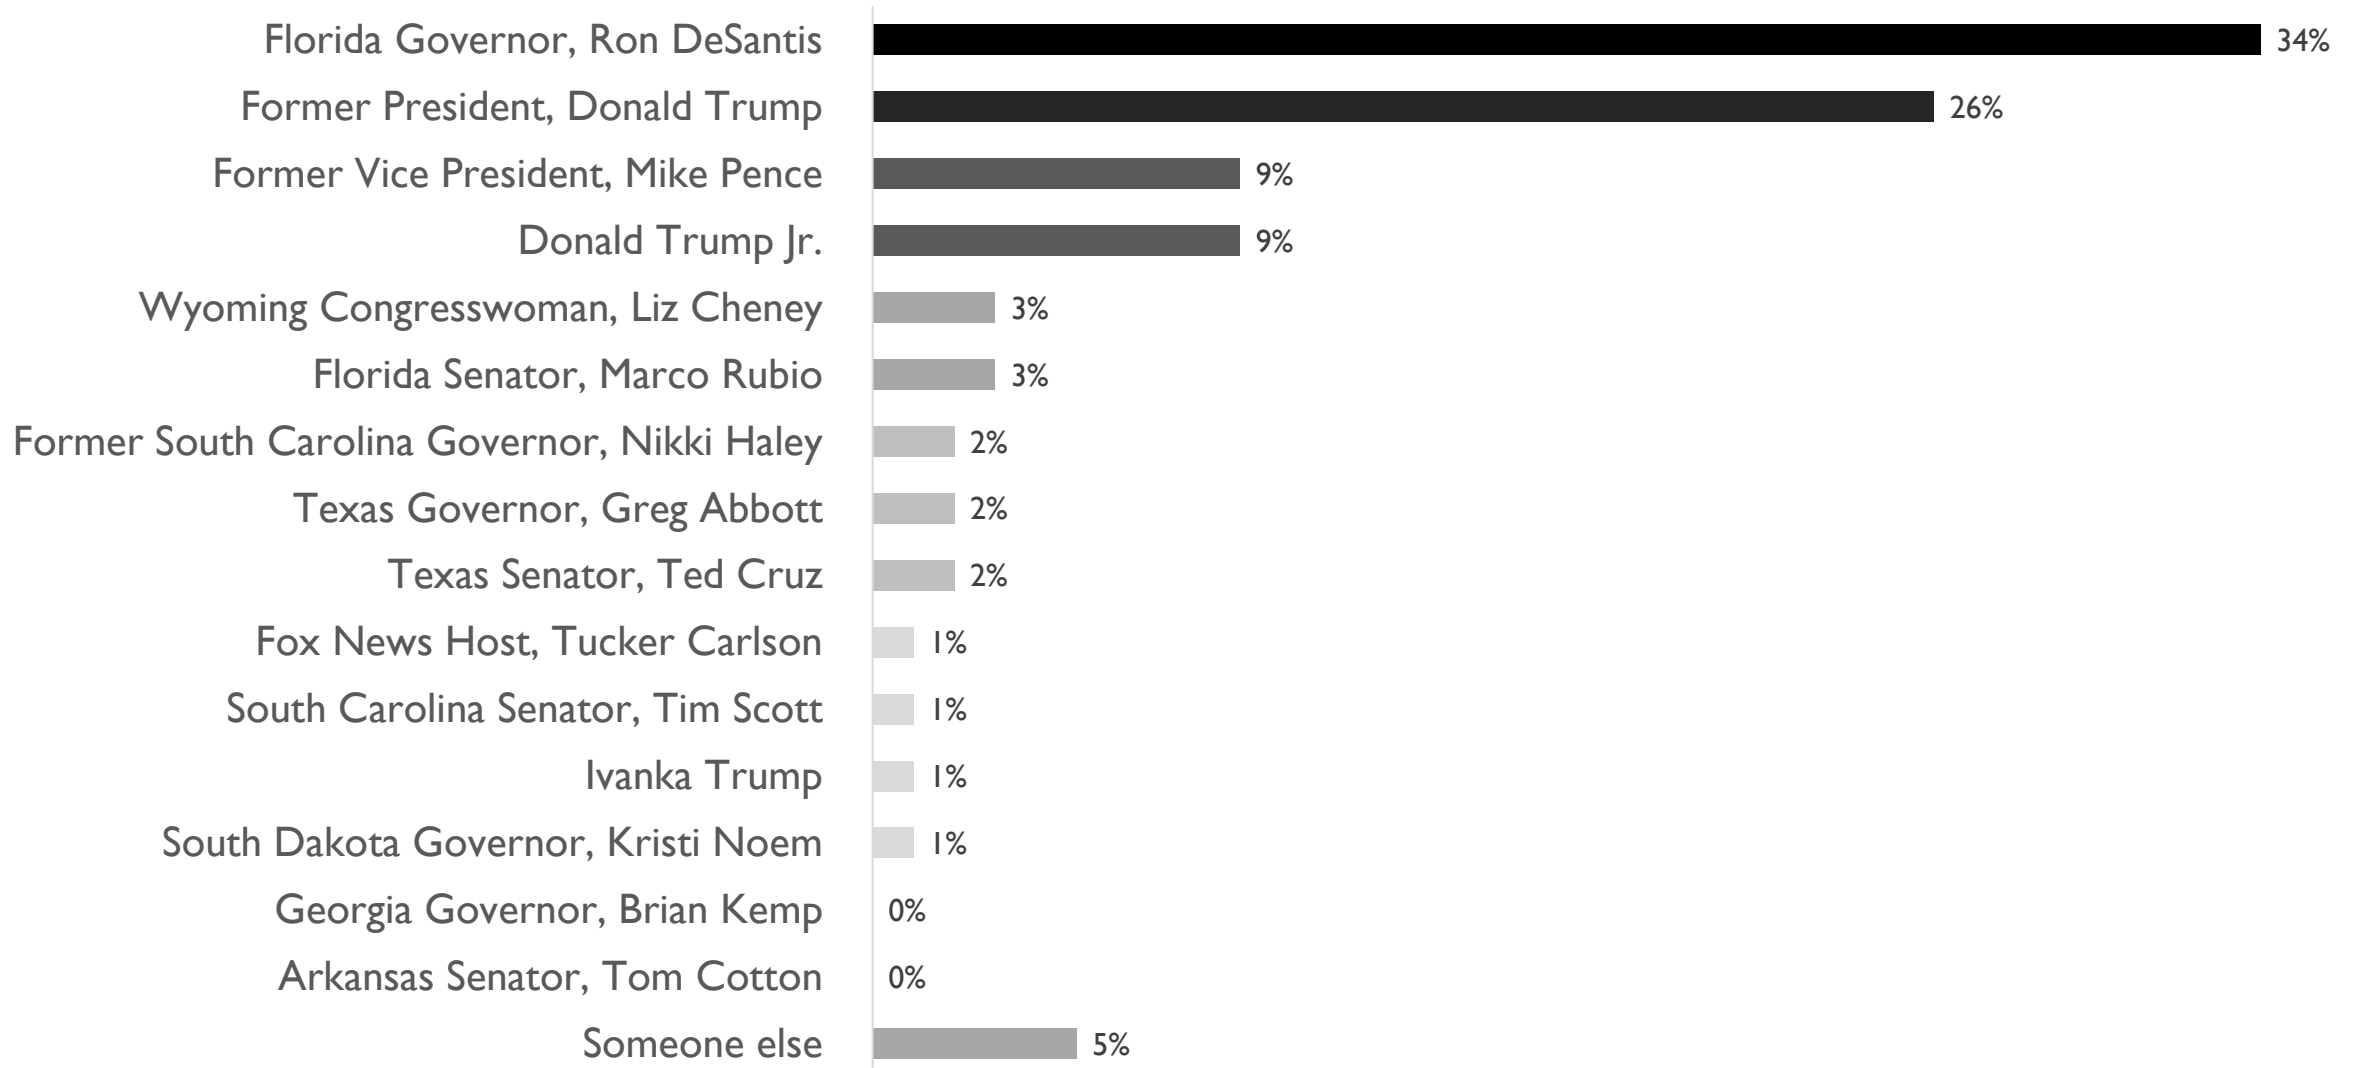

2020 REMATCH?

- A plurality of Republican voters want Trump to run again – but Independents and Democrats disagree.
- A plurality of Democratic voters want Biden to run again – but Independents and Republicans disagree.
- There is slightly more intensity behind Republican voters' support of Trump than behind Democratic voters' support of Biden, which is attributable to a full quarter of Democratic voters being "unsure" whether Biden should run again (compared to only 14% of Republican voters being "unsure" about Trump).

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY: DESANTIS OUT TO AN EARLY LEAD.

QUESTION: Who would you be most likely to support as the Republican nominee for president in 2024? (First Choice only. Showing only responses of self identified 2022 Republican Midterm voters, n=542)

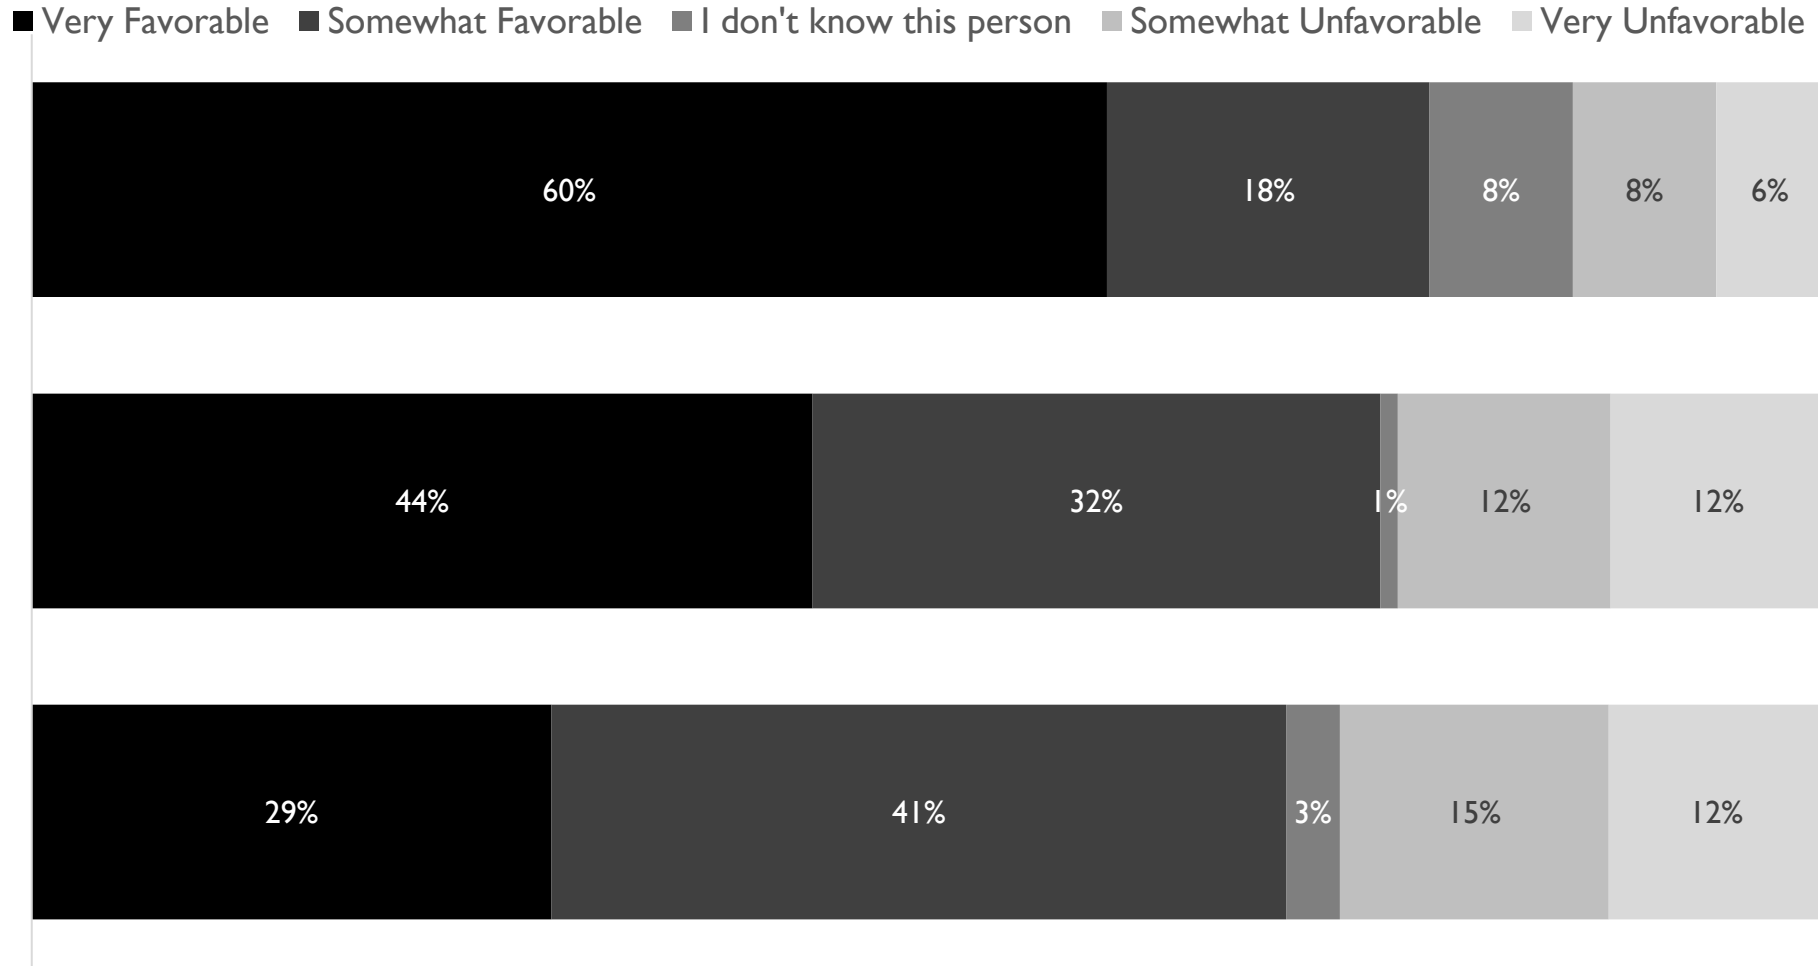

WHO HAS THE EDGE?

DeSantis has more intense favorability numbers with GOP Midterm voters.

He also has slightly lower name recognition.

QUESTION: How favorable are you to each of the following politicians or political figures?

(Showing only responses of self-identified 2022 Republican Midterm voters, n=542)

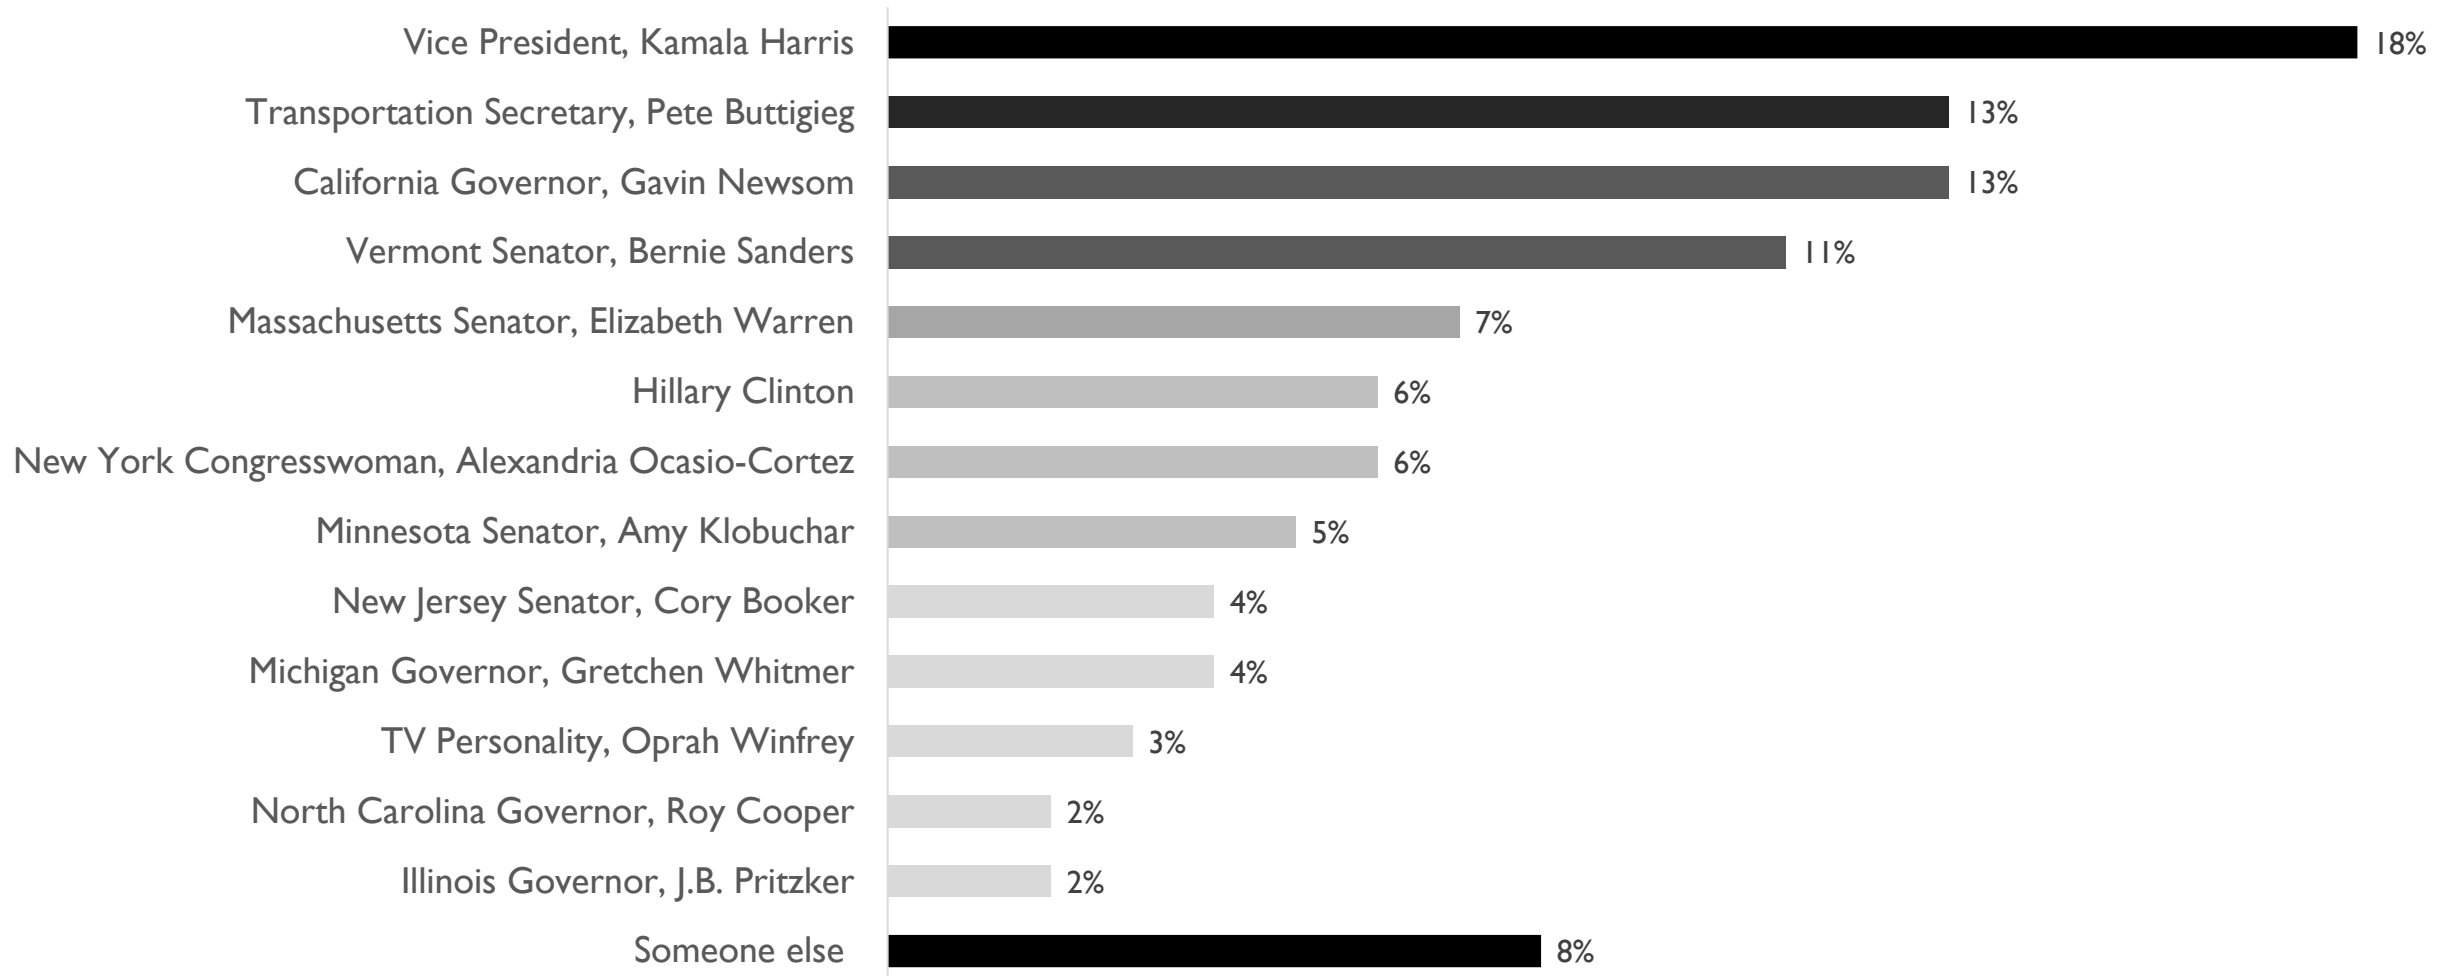

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY – NO CLEAR FRONTRUNNER.

Harris leads in the absence of Biden. However, she gets under 20% of the vote currently.

QUESTION: If Joe Biden decides not to seek a second term as President, who would you be most likely to support as the Democratic nominee for president in 2024?

(First Choice only. Showing only responses of self-identified 2022 Democratic Midterm voters, n=495)

WHO HAS THE EDGE? Biden has the highest favorable numbers AND the most intensity.

QUESTION: How favorable are you to each of the following politicians or political figures?
(Showing only responses of self-identified 2022 Democratic Midterm voters, n=495)

■ Very Favorable ■ Somewhat Favorable ■ I don't know this person ■ Somewhat Unfavorable ■ Very Unfavorable

THANK YOU.
